LOCAL NEWS.

If you see it in the Townsman, it's news to be relied upon; if it is news and so, you'll see it in the Townsman.

John O'Brien has left the employ of B. F. Holt.

Prof. Ryder preached at the West church last Sunday.

Another new car has been added to the ones running on the Andover line, No. 205.

Miss Ryan, of Lawrence, is employed as bookkeeper by Wm. H. Higgins at the Park street stables.

The preparations for the Free church picnic on Saturday, July 27, have been nearly completed.

Next Thursday evening has been selected as the time for the next band concert in Andover square.

I. Dube, of Lawrence, is putting in the cellar of the new house on William M. Wood's land, Frye Village.

Andover members of the Lawrence Canoe club attended an informal hop at the Club house, Monday evening.

The North Andovers are desirous of arranging a game of baseball with the Christ church choir team of Andover.

Arrangements are being made for a tennis tournament to be played Saturday between the Topsfield and Whittier clubs.

The South church Sunday school will hold a picnic at Canobie Lake, Saturday, Aug. 3rd. Particulars in next week's issue.

Alex. Wyllie and family are soon to move from Essex street, Abbott Village, to North Main street, a little below the railway bridge.

Maj. Wm. Mariand was one of the speakers at the reunion of the 30th Mass. Reg't, held in Lowell last Saturday.

Dr. H. B. Foster attended the final meeting of the American Philological association held the latter part of last week at the Fogg Art museum at Cambridge.

Be prepared for the brown tail moth and buy one of J. D. Fairweather's new moth catchers. A simple device but none the less effective, and a sure catcher of the "brown tail."

A concrete walk will be constructed from Campion's corner to Chestnut street on the east side of Central street, and on the opposite side of the same street from Brook street to School.

An old barn on the Wheeler place in West Andover was burned to the ground Saturday night. The barn was used by Mr. Lannon, of Lawrence, as a slaughter house. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The Andover baseball nine will play the strong Wakefield team tomorrow afternoon at Wakefield, and not the Woburns as reported in the Lawrence dailies. The battery for the town team will probably be Reed and Maloney.

Batters are up for a new house to be erected by Charles A. Clark, engineer at the Tyler Rubber company, between the new double tenement house and James Scott's new residence on the Whittier lot, Summer street.

Tuesday was the hottest yet this season, 90 in the shade in some places. This added to the excessive humidity made it a most disagreeable day in spite of the fact that a fairly good breeze was blowing during the day and evening.

Andover real estate deeds recorded at the Lawrence registry of deeds office for the past week are as follows: John H. Clinton to Annie F. Stevenson, $800; Edgecomb Rowe et ux. to Margaret J. Clinton, $750; Sarah H. Cummings to John W. Richardson, $1.

A valuable horse belonging to Expressman Tuttle died from gastric colic in Wakefield last Saturday evening. Mr. Tuttle had conveyed some of the furnishing for the Misses Means' summer home at Beach Bluff to its destination, and it was on his way home that one of the pair was taken sick in Wakefield.

A meeting of the Abbott Village Coal Society was held in Village hall last night which was largely attended. The offer of Geo. W. Chandler to supply the society's coal was accepted. The figures submitted were $6.35 per ton for stove and nut, and $6.10 per ton for egg and furnace. The contract will be in the neighborhood of 1400 tons.

The regular annual business meeting of the Baptist church society was held at the church last week Wednesday and routine business transacted. The following church officials were re-elected for the ensuing year: Clerk, Herbert H. Hill; treasurer, Arthur S. Wilbur; collector, Dea. C. N. L. Stone; standing committee, Dea. C. N. L. Stone, Dea. J. A. Leitch, M. D., Dea. Colver J. Stone, Herbert H. Hill and Arthur S. Wilbur; auditors, Dea. C. N. L. Stone and Dea. Colver J. Stone.

The severe electrical storms of the past two days have played the mischief with the fire alarm and have also interfered somewhat with the telephone system. Section one of the fire alarm was put entirely out of commission. This includes the larger part of the district lying northeast of Main street. Electrician Dane was at work last evening and this morning trying to get the system in shape once more.

Valpey Bros. have purchased two new horses for use in their market wagons.

There is still complaint in certain sections that the town water tastes poorly.

Preparations are being made for the removal of the Churchill house to its new site.

Colored people of Andover were picnicking at Shawheen grove, Ballardvale, yesterday.

The assessors have not yet fixed the tax rate for this year, but will probably do so next Monday.

The pharmacy of E. M. & W. A. Allen in the Musgrove block is being improved by a freshly painted ceiling.

Still another new car has been put on the Andover line, making three in all. The last one to be added is No. 197.

John F. Hurley was appointed one of the board of registrars of voters at a recent meeting of the board of selectmen.

Walter L. Raymond camp, 111, S. of V., will hold their annual camping-out tour at Foster's pond, Saturday and Sunday, July 27th and 28th.

Mrs. Katherine Paine and family, of Phillips street, will probably occupy the Marland house at the corner of Chestnut and Central streets.

John McCarthy is putting in the stone work at the Osgood school for Hardy & Cole, who have the contract to raise the building. A furnace will be put in.

Edward T. Harrington & Co. have sold for the Andover Savings bank a house and lot numbered 22 Trenton street, Wyoming, including about 3000 feet, to Joseph H. Burton.

Travel on the Lawrence & Reading road was very heavy all day Sunday, so that two cars were run on almost every trip. Suffering humanity wanted to try to get some relief from the excessive heat, at the beaches, apparently.

Hardy & Cole will begin work on Monday in putting in the cellar for the Churchill house, which is to be moved to its new site by a Lowell contractor. The firm is also making repairs for Mrs. Isaac Osgood at North Andover.

A number of the horses which one sees upon Andover streets nowadays are supplied with very coquettish headgear. Some of the sun bonnets appear to be of the latest and most correct thing in color and style, while others appear to be not exactly up to the proper article for this season.

The steam roller is being run over the ridges left where the gas company put their pipes. The work of laying mains and making house connections for gas has been nearly completed all over town, with the exception of that portion lying west of the Abbott Village bridge. In all, about 200 house connections have been made out of 250 ordered.

The clouds in the west and north just before the first storm last evening were very beautiful. At one time the sun behind the clouds was responsible for several long, dark rays, extending nearly to the zenith, a very strange and somewhat uncommon sight, differing from the ordinary bright rays so often cast upon the sky by the sun.

Night Watchman Means was called upon Wednesday evening to end the life of a poor cat which had been run over by the electric cars on North Main street and severely injured. He brought pussy's nine lives to an untimely finish after firing two shots at the animal's head by the light of some matches held courageously near by George McKenzie.

J. Trombly, of North Andover, is doing considerable stone and brick work in town. His men are just finishing the Hickey house on Essex street, the carpentry work on which will be done by another North Andover man, D. J. Costello. Mr. Trombly is also building the partition wall and chimneys at the new double house on the Whittier lot at the corner of Elm and Summer street, and is putting in a fireplace at the dormitory nearest the Chapel at the Seminary in a suite of rooms to be occupied by President Day.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Goodhue, Miss Elizabeth and Cushing Goodhue leave tomorrow for the Rangeley lakes to be gone until September. F. A. Goodhue, jr., will go to Magnolia for a week, after which he will join the family at the lakes. He is planning for another visit to Magnolia later on and also for a trip to the Pan-American at Buffalo.

Dr. Melvin P. Burnham and medical student William J. Butterfield have been in camp at Foster's cottage on the shore of Lake Cochichewick, this week. They report the fishing as good.

Alexander Crockett, clerk at Currier & Campion's store in town, and Mrs. Crockett will leave tomorrow for the latter's home at Digby, N. S., where they will spend a week while Mr. Crockett is enjoying his vacation.

J. W. Barnard sailed from Boston, Wednesday, with a party of "Boston friends on the Dominion liner "New England." He will spend the summer in Europe sightseeing. J. H. Campion and Henry Barnard accompanied him as far as Boston light, returning on the tug.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Goodhue, Miss Elizabeth and Cushing Goodhue leave tomorrow for the Rangeley lakes to be gone until September. F. A. Goodhue, jr., will go to Magnolia for a week, after which he will join the family at the lakes. He is planning for another visit to Magnolia later on and also for a trip to the Pan-American at Buffalo.

HEARTBURN.

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, heartburn is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let six hours elapse between meals and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, indicating that you have eaten too much, take one of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the heartburn may be avoided. For sale by all drug stores.

SHIRT WAIST.

There are two sides to the shirt waist question just as there are two sides to every question. There are thousands of people who regard it as not only perfectly proper but very sensible for men to lay aside their coats in extremely hot weather and appear in shirt waist or blouse waist; and there are thousands of people who declare that men who wear shirt waists in public violate all laws of etiquette and even common decency.

Hence the man who appears on the street in the modern negligee costume hears some commending him for his good sense and others condemning him for his impropriety.

Then what can a poor man do? It looks like a case of sweater for a while for it is universally acknowledged that etiquette requires one to respect the opinion of others and to yield whenever objection is offered to one's course. The approval of some does not warrant one to disregard the opposition of others unless he cares more for his comfort than for etiquette.

Man's only hope seems to be to wait until all who are now opposed the shirt waist become convinced that it is the only proper hot weather garment; and it is very probable that the wait will be a short one, as all who put aside their scruples and wear a shirt waist once instantly become firm supporters of the garment.

While it may seem to be proper for a man to wear shirt waists on the street, it will be many a day before he will be admitted to a fashionable hotel dining room or court room, with a few exceptions.

At hotels like Parker's, Young's, the Touraine and the Adams house in Boston the shirt waist man is not in places where women congregate as well as men. The precedent which requires the wearing of a coat in the presence of a woman seems to be too strong to be undermined in a single season. Another obstacle is the fact that it is an ultra fashion as yet, and the test dressed people do not indulge in extremes.

IT SAVED HIS LEG.

P. A. Danforth, of LaGrange, Ga., suffered for six months with a frightful running sore on his leg; but writes that Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured it in five days. For Ulcers, Wounds, Piles, it's the best salve in the world. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c. Sold by Arthur Bliss, druggist.

APPOINTING LIUTENANT GENERALS.

(From the New York Times.)
The nomination of an east side Italian boy to the Naval academy, led a New York paper to head its account of the affair in this grandiloquent and optimistic fashion: "Mott St. Has an Admiral Dewey." This suggests one of Sec. Root's sardonic witticisms. A visitor called on him at the war department and found him signing a number of payers.

"What are you doing, Mr. Secretary?" he inquired.
"Appointing lieutenant generals," replied Mr. Root.
He was signing the commissions of the West Point graduates, and it is safe to say that those who received them would have seen nothing unreasonable in the secretary's answer.

Summer Card Parties.

The popularity of card parties as a form of entertainment owes no diminution to the advent of summer, for the conditions of the season are most favorable to its growth.

At private cottages and at summer hotels it has superseded almost every other sort of entertainment as a time-killer, and the "whist woman" is considered even more accomplished than her musical sister and more gifted than the clever converser.

There are morning, afternoon and evening card parties, each occasion offering a different opportunity for effective gowning and arrangement of tables and refreshments.

They are also popular in the suburbs and people are invited out by trolley to take a hand at euchre or whist.

If there are roomy verandas and well shaded grounds the morning and afternoon card parties may be given al fresco. The tables are placed all about and after the games they are spread with line covers or large napkins and the ices, frappe and small cakes are served on them.

Flowers being plentiful any sort of wild flowers will do it is desirable to have a loose bunch in a glass holder on each table, and if sprays of summer ivy or blossoming vines have been gathered in time it makes the tables look lovely to arrange these in graceful carelessness on the white cloth. These may, however, be omitted from the small tables, but ought surely to form part of the decoration of the round table at which the tea is poured or the punch served.

The green vines, with which roses or other flowers are intertwined, are fastened against the cloth in deep scalloped or in garland style just at the edge of the table and hanging below it like we see in old Roman or Florentine pictures.

The table should be out under the trees if possible to put it there, with a number of chairs and garden seats scattered nearby.

It adds greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion if there are several musicians concealed in an arbor or the shrubbery, playing the harp, violin and 'cello, though these are very frequently omitted without detriment to the entire success of the party.

The prizes should be those that make merriment, and all sorts of novelties are to be had at the shops that make a specialty of cotillion favors.

The ices may be in the form of hearts, clubs, aces and spades and the cakes may also be had in these shapes. If served in time. By having a syphon bottle, a bowl of shaved ice and some flavoring extracts made of fruit juices, delicious soda water charged with gas may be served the guests, just as one gets it from the drug stores.

There is something seen at daytime card parties in summer that is rarely or never to be found there at other seasons—something that enlivens the game wonderfully, and that something is of the genus humor.

It being a more or less leisure season he is sometimes available at suburban parties where he can run out on the trolley and stay awhile at any rate. He usually finds them pleasant affairs and though he is not wildly anxious to win the frivolous prizes, and wishes the more serious prizes, he is quite satisfied with the picture made by the summer girls in their flower hats.

Summer complaint is unusually prevalent among children this season. A well developed case in the writer's family was cured last week by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—one of the best patent medicines manufactured and which is always kept on hand at the home of every family. This is not intended as a free puff for the company, who do not advertise with us, but with benefit to sufferers who may not be within easy access of a physician. No family should be without a bottle of this medicine in the house, especially in summer time.—Lansing, Iowa, Journal. For sale by all drug stores.

ROMANCE OF BOER WAR.

HOBOKEN, N. J., July 9.—One love romance growing out of the Boer war was brought to a happy termination yesterday, when Miss Elsie Franker and Christian Franker, who despite the similarity of names, are not blood relations, were married by Justice of the Peace David Van Wyck at the Amstel Hotel, Hudson street.

The bride, who is 26 years old, was wooed and won by Christian in Holland, but he emigrated to the Transvaal to better his fortunes preparatory to marrying her. He had been but a short time in the South African republic when he was offered a sufficient money to warrant him in sending for the girl of his choice.

Soon after mailing his letter war broke out between the British and the Boers, and when Miss Franker's father, who had taken sides with the burghers, had been killed, when the city was captured. Finding herself friendless and resourceless, she became a Red cross nurse, and as such her story became known a subscription was taken up and her passage was paid back to Holland.

Miss Franker was mourning for her sweetheart as dead, when one day he suddenly appeared before her. The shock was so severe that it nearly cost her life. When she had sufficiently recovered her fiancé explained that he had been wounded and taken prisoner by the British and had been deported to Flushing, Holland.

Failing to find work in Holland, Franker emigrated to the U. S. and obtained employment in Passaic, N. J. Once more he sent for his prospective bride, and she arrived on Sunday on the Holland-America steamship.

Justice of the Peace Van Wyck was summoned, the knot was tied, and the couple are now living happily in Passaic.

Teacher (severely)—Thomas, this map is ruled crooked, very crooked, indeed!

Of Interest to Women.

The best way to drive away "the blues" is to spend an hour or two in the company of a bright companion, passing the time in the pursuit of some sport or other, such as tennis, golf or croquet—anything that will drive one thoughts into a fresh channel and hold one's attention.

Every one feels "down" at times; it is impossible for buoyancy of spirits to be ever permanent, but a good deal can be done to discourage depression from increasing by at once occupying one's self with some subject of interest, and more especially by entering into the pleasures and sorrows of others.

A temperance drink that resembles champagne is compounded as follows: Take a good sized lemon, an ounce of ginger root, a pound and a half of white sugar, one ounce of tartaric acid, one quart of water. Bruise the ginger, slice the lemons, pour boiling water over them and when it has cooled to lukewarmness add the yeast and let it stand in the sun all day. In the evening put it in a cool place and let it ferment. It may be used in a couple of days.

Among the many fancies in handkerchiefs some charming and new designs are shown which are out of date, but notwithstanding these are desired because of a sort of feudal idea that what was used so long ago must have been something of a coat of arms.

There are two kinds of handkerchiefs called in French "mixte." "Mixte" means a handkerchief between the very dressy one and the everyday or kitchen handkerchief.

Take a piece of white batiste, also a piece of colored batiste, either pink mauve or blue. First of all draw some graceful lines upon the colored batiste to work upon, and place it upon some very thick paper or upon oiled cloth (oil cloth is preferable), then work on these made lines a small stitch with twist. The border of the handkerchief is scalloped with a larger stitch.

Foulards are still holding their own in the markets they say in the shops. The corded Japanese silks which are so suitable for shirtwaists are selling well, and the shepherd's plaids, the little most expensive fabric, which have been worn by well dressed women, are also making a long season.

Long, narrow tulle bows in black and in white set to wear in the hair for each. The bows are perhaps an inch or two wide and four or five inches long, drawn out straight and square. They are worn at the front of the coil when that is worn on the top of the head.

Taffeta forms the waist ribbon of a stylish gown of dark blue velveting, which is trimmed with stitched bands. There is a good sized bow with ends tied a little to the left of the waist.—Advertiser.

A great deal of old fashioned simplicity is noticeable in the making of summer frocks—that soft, fluffy style that has ever been the ideal of mankind generally—and to be "such a dear effeminate girl" has once again established itself as the highest aim in the art of pleasing. My lady has frills of lace falling over her fair hands, and languidly drooping puffs and jabots of lace at her throat, and ribbons at her waist and light ruffled skirts. Some of the most expensive fabrics are made most easily to belie their cost. They have plain little round yokes, with narrow berthes of lace, on the slightly bloused, unlined bodices, and short sleeves with lace elbow flairs.

Apparently there is no limit to the extravagance of fashion. Up to this time the umbrella when rolled up has been fastened with a narrow band attached to it by a modest button, while the other end was provided with a small ring. Now the button is replaced by a cabochon turquoise, sapphire, ruby or emerald and the ring is of gold.

Silver, combined with handsome enamel effects, is the popular fad of the moment. Rarely beautiful effects are obtained by this combination, and it promises to have tremendous vogue.

A handsome set of orange spoons in this new enamel effect is made in the regulation shape, the bowl being gilt and the handle being decorated in a pattern of the growing fruit finished in enamel. A handsome orange yellow and dark green for the leaves. A set of strawberry forks is also ornamented with naturally colored luscious berries and green leaves of enamel. A set of coffee spoons has on the handle a bunch of forget-me-nots in blue enamel.

More stocks are built on thin gowns this year than ever before in the history of separate stocks. It is a part of the luxury of the summer fashions. It is a comfortable fashion, for a gown can be put on more quickly and easily and the stock is always at the proper angle, and, being sewed into place, will stay in position, if only of the thinnest materials. But it is not economical. When the stock is soiled—and it takes but little wear in summer to soil it—the whole gown must be cleaned. Then it does not lend itself to the slightest variations in costume made by the woman who has not many. But it is very pretty and sensible for those who can afford it.

The injustice so frequently given in regard to relaxation of the body as a means of rest are invaluable and cannot be repeated too often. The relaxation of the muscles of the mind is no less necessary, however, and its necessity should be emphasized in every way. A charming woman over 60, whose face is young and bright, was now and then the lines and wrinkles away. Her answer was:

"I began when a girl to put aside a hope hour every day, as far as possible. In that hour I thought of everything but my own life, and I refused to think of worries. I read hopeful poems. I looked at flowers and birds. I smoothed the wrinkles from my heart by remembering only joyous moments. I believe to that habit I owe the faculty for seeing the bright side of things, and my comparative freedom from the lines traced by care. I always could fill one hour in the day with hope!"

Drawn work is the earliest known form of lace. Yellow lace was extremely popular in the 17th century. Lace is comparatively a modern invention. The old veil, muslins and nets of the Egyptians and Orientals were a sort of embroidery. The real origin was in the convent among the nuns. Just as the monks devoted their lives to wonderful illuminations of holy books the nuns worked themselves blind over delicate laces.

NEW NAME FOR JOHNNIES.

"Oh, never mind him. He's just a 'sap.' That's all he is. So spoke the chorus girl in a tone of contempt. 'A sap.'? What on earth is a 'sap.'? Well, a 'sap' is the thing that a few years ago was known as a 'johnny.'"

A Jar of Butter Not Up to Grade.

Just because a jar of butter was not up to the grade that those asked to purchase it felt they must insist on two loving hearts having been ruled by thrust and parry, and there are two large chunks of woe down in the southern part of the state. The scene if this oleaginous tragedy is the little hamlet of Rhine Creek, not far from Binghamton. The principals are Henry Davis and Ellen Johnson. These two live on adjoining farms. Some time ago Henry made the discovery that Ellen was about the best ever, and the only one to cheer the declining years of a life (Henry is "in his twenties," as the neighbors would put it), and resolved that he and Helen must wed. About the same time Helen woke up to the warm fact that Henry was it. When matters had progressed thus far the plot began to reveal itself.

At this point a group of villains, both the villains and she villains, came on to the stage from both sides and began to interfere with the smooth progress of love's young dream, by means of jeers and threats. The said villains were impersonated by Henry and Ellen. With much unnecessary haste and without cruel disregard of the tender feelings of Henry and Ellen they declared in chorus that this must not be, must not be, and that all was over between them. Red fire and a slow curtain on the tableau of Henry and Ellen's unhappy torn from each other's arms by their respective sets of parents, Ellen weeping and Henry cursing sotto voce. So ends the first act of the tragedy.

The second act opens with Ellen under the close parental surveillance and Henry, the faithful lover, stealing surreptitious interviews with his sweetheart. With appropriate gestures and to low, tremulous music, the absent villain is defied and eloquent decided upon to take place at any sufficient funds can be raised to pay the minister's fee. About this time Ellen is nearly prostrated with a sudden thought. It is not the fact that she has thought, nor yet that it was sudden that upset Ellen; she has had thoughts before and some of them have been sudden. But the brilliancy of the present celebration almost prostrates her.

Out in the milk room there is a jar of butter made by her own fair hands. It is hers by every right and they will take it to the city and sell it, and with the proceeds thereof start the merry marriage bells a-ringing. The third act opens in Binghamton. Henry and Ellen have come to town with their jar of butter in a wagon loaned by a sympathetic neighbor. They make the rounds of the various grocery stores, not forgetting the delicatessen shops and fishmongers. But such a slack demand for butter at anything like living—to say nothing of marrying—prices was never known before. Gloom in thick layers began to descend on their hitherto buoyant spirits.

But this time it is Henry who does the brilliant thought act. He will go to the minister, tell him the joint de fer of Helen and himself and tender him the jar of butter in lieu of a wedding fee. The minister's house was soon reached and the proposition hopefully submitted. The reverend gentleman looked at Henry and looked at Ellen and looked at the butter. While two hearts fluttered and palpitated the minister tasted the butter. Then he opined that Ellen was too young to wed.

It was a sad couple that turned their backs on Binghamton and headed for Rhine Creek. Ellen has returned to her father's house and Henry is doing the chores, as usual. And both are wondering what was the matter with the butter.—Utica Observer.

CHILDREN'S BRIGHT TALK.

One of the first things to attract the attention of Baby Clarence was grandma's hatrack, made of a pair of deer horns. One afternoon, when he was years old, his papa took him to Capt. G's park. When relating the incident of the trip to his mamma, on their return, he exclaimed: "And, o mamma! I saw a deer and he had a hatrack on his head!"

A little girl went out to play one day in the fresh, new snow, and when she came in she said: "Mamma, I couldn't help praying when I was out at play." "What did you pray for my dear?" "I prayed the snow prayer, mamma, that I heard in Sunday school." "The snow prayer? What do you mean little one?" "I mean the beautiful snow prayer in the Bible, mamma. You know, says: 'Wash me and I shall be whiter than snow.'"

AN OPPORTUNITY TO RELIEVE PAIN.

Miss Frances Bacon Paine says, in the July number of Harper's magazine:

If I were dead I think that you would come And look upon me cold and white and say: "Poor child, I'm sorry you have gone away."

But just because my body has to live Through hopeless years, you do not come and say, "Dear child, I'm glad you are here today."

We would earnestly advise the fellow to go around with a box of candy before it is forever too late.—Chicago Record-Herald.

HE DID.

"This, my noble friend," said the poet as he laid a written scroll on the editor's desk, "is a bit of fugitive verse."

"And you," responded the editor, after a perfunctory glance at the manuscript, "had better follow its example."

Among the convenient things for summer wear are sets, including collar or collar protector, cuffs and revers. They are called revers sets. They are in combinations of embroideries, insertions and laces and are shown in a variety of patterns. Some collars and cuffs are curved, others are just the straight bands, and the revers are in a variety of shapes and sizes. They are the daintiest things imaginable for giving the dressy little touch to a summer toilette and they virtually transform a plain shirt waist.

THE SAME OLD STORY.

J. A. Kelly relates an experience similar to that which has happened in almost every neighborhood in the United States and has been told and retold by thousands of others. He says: "Last summer I had an attack of dysentery and purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used according to directions and with entirely satisfactory results. This trouble was controlled much quicker than former attacks when I used other remedies." Mr. Kelly is a well known citizen of Henderson, N. C. For sale by all drug stores.

Rostand's Sister at Manchester.

Mme. de Margerie, the brilliant and beautiful sister of Edmond Rostand, the author of "Cyrano de Bergerac" and "Hernani," is now on her way to America to take up her abode in Washington. Her husband, M. de Margerie, one of the most promising young diplomats in the service of France, arrived in Washington about a month ago to assume the duties of first secretary of the French embassy. During M. de Margerie's absence in Europe, Mme. de Margerie will act as charge d'affaires.

Mme. de Margerie, whose mother was a Spaniard, has inherited from her dark beauty of color and feature, with an expression of indefinable charm. She possesses also the reputation of being one of the brightest and witdest young women in the diplomatic corps. During the summer M. and Mme. de Margerie will occupy a cottage at Manchester-by-the-Sea. In the autumn they will reside in Washington at 1753 N street, the former home of M. de Margerie, and where later in the season they will entertain M. Rostand, who, it is needless to say, will be the social lion of the day.

COUNTY NEWS.

Essex county councils, Knights of Columbus are planning for a mammoth union picnic at Centennial grove, on Aug. 15.

Plans are being prepared for the new hospital building to be erected by the trustees of the Anna Jacques Hospital at Newburyport.

Judge Joseph M. Titcomb of Newburyport was 93 years of age Tuesday. He is well physically and able to be about every day.

The Haverhill mortality record for the past week was seven deaths, and one new case of a contagious disease was reported to the board of health.

Lt. Gov. Bates has nearly finished a summer home near the mouth of the Annisquam at Gloucester. The place includes some three acres and has been named "Stonecrest."

Boys are again throwing stones at trains near Ipswich. Ex-Alderman Beres of Newburyport was recently quite severely cut by glass which had been shattered by a stone.

An attachment has been filed against William F. Warner of Ipswich in the sum of $6000 in an action on a bill in equity brought by Francis S. Appleton and James W. Appleton of Ipswich.

The 72 lusters at Chick Bros. shoe factory, Haverhill, are out on a strike. They demand an increase in wages. The men at Wiley & Brickett's shop are also out. They object to a new hand who was employed.

Benjamin B. Ropes residing at 63 School street, Salem, and employed by the Merrill Leather company, is said to be one of the best leather burnishers in this country. He controls the secret that puts an exceptionally fine gloss on leather. He is a splendid workman and is deserving of large recompense for his service.

There is a pressing demand in Peabody for a hospital and it will be a good thing for the town when one is provided. A number of bequests have been made to the town for hospital purposes. At present if any one is injured, they are taken either to the Lynn or Salem hospitals for treatment which occasions much delay and suffering to the unfortunate patient.

Gloucester fishermen report a marked falling off in the catch of cod this year. The demand is steadily growing and the supply is running short. Several vessels that ought to have been in long ago are still unheard from, the inference being that they are still without full fares. Mackerel, too, is advancing in the Gloucester market. Eight dollars a barrel was paid recently for a record for some time.

From the Assessors of Peabody it is learned that the tax rate for the present year will be $19 on $1000. The rate last year was $17.40 and $1000, and the previous year $15.40. The increased rate this year is due to several causes, among them being a net loss of $183,620 in the valuation of the town, the raising of all the money the town voted to raise by taxation this year, which it is claimed the board did not do in 1900; also an increase in the State and county tax over last year.

SAD EFFECT OF LODGE NIGHT.

B—attended a social session of his lodge a few nights ago and did not get home until 5 g. m. When he came downstairs to breakfast he found his wife waiting for him, and as she poured the coffee with an unusually pleasant smile on her face he made up his mind she had something on him at last. Finally, as he had pushed back his plate with the eggs uneaten, she said in a very sweet voice: "What was the matter with you, this morning, dear?" "Nothing that I know of," said he, meanwhile cudgeling his brains trying to think up what break he had made. "Why, what did you see the matter?" "O, nothing; only you took hold of the railing on the bed and kept muttering to yourself, 'Here's the balustrade, all right, but where in — is the stairs.'"

B—bought her a new dress next day.—Albany Journal.

NO PLACE FOR MAN IN LOVE.

"The army is no place for a man who falls in love," muttered the corporal connected with one of the uptown recruiting stations the other day.

He took a picture out of his pocket and looked at it longingly. It was of a girl with short curly hair, and her white felt hat was pulled down over one eye, as a contrast to the direction taken by its white chicken feather. The corporal's eyes said it that it was about the finest thing he had ever seen. There was love in them.

"This is a picture of my girl. Lulu is her name, and she's the finest ever! Her and me want to get tied up, and if it wasn't for this blued army business we would have been spliced long ago."

"Has the army any legal right to keep you from getting married?" asked the visitor in amazement.

"Of course, this is supposed to be a free country, but they can make it mighty uncomfortable for you in the barracks."

WELL, THIS WAS BUSINESS.

The customer who had found the cold he had bought the day before two sizes too small, and who had returned it and asked for an exchange, had given his name and address and observed all the formalities, including a walk from one end of the big store to the other, but he was still waiting.

"Well," he said, looking at his watch, "I once left the United Brethren and joined the Presbyterian church in less time than it takes to do this."—Chicago Tribune.

J. E. Conant & Co. of Lowell will sell the Globe and Prospect Woolen Mills.

Another hearing was held in the Judge Thompson presiding, in regard to the affairs of the Globe and Prospect Woolen Mills.

Petitions for permission to sell the two plants was presented by the trustees and granted, no objection being offered.

Col. John P. Sweeney, who represents the former proprietors, Samuel and A. H. Robinson, suggested that the amount of the partial payment to be made at the time of the auction be stipulated in the notice of the sale. For the trustees Congressman Knox stated that it was the intention of the trustees to do so. Mr. Knox said that the required would probably be $10,000 in the case of the Prospect and $5000 in the case of the Globe.

The petitions presented and granted were: That the trustees be allowed to sell at auction or private sale all the machinery, yarn, wool and personal property of all and every kind of said estate located on the mill premises of the Globe and Prospect mills, or wherever else found.

That the trustees be allowed to sell at auction, a partial payment to be made at the time of sale and balance within 40 days, a certain tract of land situated in Lawrence, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the south-westerly corner of the premises at the intersection of Garden and Allen streets, thence easterly by said Garden street about 60 feet; thence southerly to the thence northerly up and by said river about 640 feet to land now or formerly of Josselyn and King; thence westerly by land of said Josselyn and King about 200 feet; thence southerly, by land, now or formerly of Patrick Sweeney, of one Hutchins and of Thomas Hardacre about 163 feet to a passageway 12 feet wide leading from this lot to Allen street, with the right to use in common with others said private way; thence still southerly by said passageway and land now or formerly of Thomas Walworth and land now or formerly of James Holdsworth, about 113 feet; thence westerly about 90 feet to said Allen street; thence southerly by said Allen street about 379 feet to the point of beginning, with dam across said river abutting the premises and to the water power of the same, as is fully set forth in a certain deed from Essex company to Charles S. Brown, recorded with the Essex registry of Deeds, book 399 and page 162, subject to certain restrictions as to height of dam and flashboards as set forth in deed to Henry Arnold, recorded with said registry, book 715 and page 114. That the trustees be authorized to sell at auction or private sale, all the machinery, yarn, wool and personal property of all and every kind of said estate located on the mill premises of the Prospect Woolen Mills in Lawrence, Mass., or wherever else to be found.

That the trustees be authorized to sell at auction, partial payment to be made at the time of the sale and the balance within 40 days, all free from incumbrance, a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon situated in Lawrence on the southerly side of Merrimack river and lying between the canal of the Essex company and said river and bounded as follows: Southerly by the canal of the Essex company and 50 feet distant northerly from the face of the northerly wall of said canal; easterly about 250 feet by land now or formerly of said Essex company; northerly about 200 feet by line parallel with the southerly boundary aforesaid and distant 250 feet northerly therefrom; westerly about 250 feet by land now or formerly of the Merrimack Falls company, as at the discretion of the trustees; the machinery connected with said real estate all in a lump or separately.

The petitions were all signed by the trustees, Charles W. Walworth and William S. Knox.

THE BEST LINIMENT FOR STRAINS

Mr. F. H. Wells, the merchant at Deer Park, Long Island, N. Y., says: "I always recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm as the best liniment for strains. I used it last winter for a severe lameness in the side, resulting from a strain, and was greatly pleased with the quick relief and cure it effected." For sale by all drug stores.

PONY EXPRESS LETTERS.

(From the Philadelphia Times.) "In looking over some old papers the other day," said a wholesale merchant, "I ran across a very singular document. It was a letter of instruction sent 40 years ago by one of my uncles, then in St. Louis, to his agent in San Francisco. It related to the disposal of a lot of goods which had been shipped by way of the Erie, and although it contained over 15,000 words and a copy of a good sized invoice, it was written on just two sheets of paper. The paper itself was a sort of tough, opaque tissue, very thin and light, and when folded the letter slipped easily into an envelope about three inches wide."

"Why it was got up in such a peculiar style was explained by the stamp in the corner, which was one of the old 'pony express' series of Wells, Fargo & Co., and was embellished with a picture of a man on horseback spurring at a dead gallop across the plains. I knew, of course, that the Pacific mail of the period was carried by relay express riders, but I never what great lengths were taken to reduce the weight to the lowest possible point. I am told that the letters were stored in little flat pouches under the flaps of the saddle and that they were always written on a specially prepared tissue."

"The one I have described must have occupied an expert clerk several days, for the penmanship, while microscopic, is beautifully executed and as clear and legible as print. The stamp was of the denomination of 50 cents, and taken altogether it would be hard to find a more striking reminder of the astonishing progress that has been made in this country in trifling over a generation. Everything about the little brown letter—its lightness, its compactness and the cost of its carriage—spoke of dangers, difficulties and rude, primitive conditions. It is difficult to realize that the route it traveled is now the great highway of a thousand rushing trains bearing the transcontinental commerce of the nation."

When Bernhardt Plays Romeo.

(From the Portland Oregonian.)

When Sara plays bold Romeo to Maudie's Juliet, we'll see the other mummies hump to keep the pace they set; As old Jack LaRue, Edna May will keep up across the scene. And said Dick Mansfield must tog out as dear, petite Arline; Nat Goodwin as LaTosca would go humping for revenge; As Tess could be hunting, flee for shelter in Stone Henge. The fad will beat the book play craze, 'twill be the greatest yet, When Sara's playing Romeo to Maudie's Juliet.

Blanch Bates would make a brave Prince Hal, as Topsy could John Drew.

Achilles at hit; and how Jean D'Arc would do for Kyrie Bellew!

As Portia Joseph Jefferson could hardly fail to score, Gillette as Cleopatra would be well when paying for many fast.

And Mrs. Pike as big Bill Sykes would crowd houses draw.

While Frederick Ward would make the best Nell Gwynn we ever saw. They all must get in line or find they're left out in the wet.

When Sara's playing Romeo to Maudie's Juliet.

When Francis Wilson makes his bow as Little Eva, we will see Modjeska's Uncle Tom, a thing worth while to see; And Ada Rehan, when again she chooses to appear.

Will wear a white and flowing beard, and have and storm as LaTosca.

May Irwin would be great as Wang, and H. Clay Barnabee.

As Desdemona couldn't fail to be 'way up in G.

There'll be things doing on the stage next season, you can bet, When Sara's playing Romeo to Maudie's Juliet.

BEAUTY SHOW AT DINNER.

(From the Sun.)

The summer resort hotel has grown to be the stage upon which the rich woman without acquaintance in the social world of the day. A lady in all their splendor. Her husband pays for the gowns as he pays from $5 to $25 a day for the privilege of displaying his wife and daughters robed in purple and green, when dinner gowns the health and draped in fine lace.

Summer hotel etiquette has changed considerably and the early hours of the day are not made so notable with frocks as formerly. For many fastidious women the ankle length white plique tailor made skirt worn with a white shirt of lace, cotton or silk, with a dainty hat, girdle and smart shoes is the only toilette of the day until dinner time, unless some special luncheon or breakfast calls for a change.

Summer life is now so strenuous in its golfing, bathing and wheeling that the old type of piazza belle is extinct. Even the dinner gowns the health and draped in fine lace.

Nor is the hair dressed in the elaborate style that was in vogue formerly. Only the very frumpy or elderly woman now has her hair crimped or waved with artificial ornaments. It is brushed back plainly or loosely coiled in the prevalent pompadour fashion except for daines, when it is arranged with but little more attempt at formal mode.

But the dinner gown is now the focus of the early hours of the day. A full falls over the place, and while this to the uninitiated might suggest an afternoon nap, it really indicates that dinner dressing has begun.

From 7 to 8 the waiters stand in their places in bored idleness. No woman who appreciates her gown would be so foolish as to be first in the dining room. So there is a general hanging back, and hungry husbands who have arrived from town and dived into their Tuxedos impatiently wait the hour when the radiantly garbed members of his household are ready to descend to the scene of battle.

For it is a battle interesting to every woman who enters into this dressing rivalry at summer hotels. The woman who is able to keep up a succession of different frocks each night is easily the victor, and there are several women prepared with ammunition in the shape of apparel to this extent.

NEW YORK NOVELTY COMPANY.

It is often the case that a half dozen or more good acts do not give a good vaudeville show. This is caused by two or more specialties of the same time conflicting with each other, and in that manner becoming dull and stupid because of the repetition. The very great contrast in the different acts which go to make up The New York Novelty Company has eliminated this failing at least from their performances. The following artists have been carefully selected and placed: Sully, Moore & Sully, The Harper's, sketch artist; Eloise Mortimer, descriptive balladist, with a budget of the latest New York song hits, Kenyon and others. This company is announced for Glen Forest next week giving two performances daily afternoon and evening.

Not the Honey He Meant.

(From the Kansas City Journal.)

Frank Anderson was for years a well-known commercial traveler who regularly visited Galena, Kan. He was passionately fond of honey, and the proprietor of the Galena hotel at which he always stopped always had some on hand for him.

On one trip Anderson took his wife along, and as he approached Galena he mentioned to her that he was getting to a place where he could have honey. When the pair were sitting at the supper table that night no honey appeared, and Anderson said sharply to the head waiter: "Where is my honey?"

The waiter smiled and said: "You mean the little black-haired one? Oh, she don't work here now."

Anderson never did get it fixed up satisfactorily with his wife.

Gowanus—"I had $3 in my pocket last night, but this morning there is only a penny or two. Did you need some money for a spring shirt waist and take it, Arabella?"

Mrs. Gowanus (astonished)—"Yes, but I only took $1.98!"

When I Get Time.

"When I get time I am going to take a day off and go fishing." Thus does a good Townsman friend frequently preface an interesting homily upon the overworked expression that heads these few words.
"When I get time." What a million things a million people are going to do when they get time. The fence is going to be mended, the yard improved, the letter written, the courtesy of a friend acknowledged, the work of a faithful public official approved in a note of good feeling. "When we get time" how many of us are planning to do some nice thing for a less fortunate neighbor, and how many more of us are going to begin a new order of doing things ourselves.

This is just the time of year when the time to go fishing is most plentiful and when the fishing for many things beside fish may be carried on most successfully. Above all else it is the time for taking account of stock of what becomes of all of our time; of what fills up the three hundred and sixty-five days in every year. By all means let us all take time this summer to inventory our time, and see if we cannot dispose of it to a better advantage when the "time for fishing" is past and we have begun again the days when we say so easily — "When I get time."

A Pressing Need.

The bringing of a great many people to the centre of the town for exchange to different street car lines will emphasize more than ever the need of a public sanitary. Few people, probably, have any idea of the discomforts and inconveniences which travellers have experienced, on the hill, and which residents there have also experienced through the invasion of their premises. How the convenience is to be provided, and where, are very serious questions, but that it must be in some way cannot be denied. Cities and towns everywhere are wrestling with this problem and several attempts have been made to secure legislation upon it.

We are inclined to believe that it should be made obligatory for the street railroads to maintain such places at a convenient location in every town where their cars do business, and some law to bring about such a result cannot be secured too soon.

There is very serious complaint because of the slow manner in which the rails are being relaid on Main street. We do not blame those who have to use the street for being vexed over this matter, but there are really valid reasons for the slow progress which should be taken into account before passing final judgment.

The officials state that they have invoices of material, now long overdue, the arrival of which will allow the working of a large gang of men and the pushing of the work. There is no question but that work was begun before things were actually in shape, in order to make good the promise made at the last hearing. The selectmen are bound to push this work every way in their power, and the railroad company has just as binding an obligation placed upon it, to be expeditious and thorough.

The first band concert was a distinct success, and thoroughly enjoyed by a very large crowd. One thing was very clearly demonstrated in this gathering of a thousand or more people for an outdoor event, and that was that the town has no proper place at present available for such an assembly. It was a shame to smother, even in a slight degree, the excellent music that the band furnished, yet that was done because of the very high buildings which surrounded the small plot where the band was stationed. Next year it is to be hoped that the Richardson field may be in shape for use on such occasions as these, and there is no doubt but that the town will very willingly bear the necessary expense to provide the proper conveniences.

Editorial Cinders.

We understand that the "powers that be" are in a quandary as to which is the better route for street railway connection between Lawrence and Salem; whether the route down Salem street or directly through North Andover on the so-called "air line." Andover people have but one mind upon the question, and that is in favor of the Salem street route. And such a desire is not wholly selfish. The difference in distance is very slight, while the public to be served is largely in favor of the Salem street. The petitioners for the Salem street franchise were profuse in their promises, and the Andover public is now very desirous that these promises should be fulfilled.

Supt. Lovejoy has finished his job on Essex street and it is a good one; but will it all "come out in the washing" as so many good things do?

FAIRY LIKE SCENE

South Church Lawn Beautiful in Appearance During the C. E. Lawn Party Tuesday Evening.

Nothing could have been more prettier than the South church lawn as it appeared last Tuesday evening, lighted with several hundred parti colored Chinese lanterns of varied shapes, strung about from tree to tree, their softly colored light blending with the brilliant white rays from the large incandescent bulbs put up for the occasion by the Andover Electric Light company. Underneath the lights and scattered in various delightful places among the trees and shrubbery, were the different tables over which presided young ladies of the society in light colored gowns, appearing fresh and cool in spite of the heat of the evening.

The occasion was the lawn party arranged by the social committee of the Christian Endeavor society in order that funds might be raised which would be used to pay their pledge of $50 toward the church debt. From 5 to 10 o'clock the party was held, and during those hours nearly everything salable was disposed of.

Everything was propitious. The day chosen for the party had been the hottest of the season, making everybody doubly glad to come out in the evening to enjoy the fairly good breeze which cooled off the atmosphere somewhat as old "Sol" went to bed in the west. The ice cream, lemonade and frappe tables did a rushing business, because people thought thus to refresh themselves and obtain some relief from the heat. The fruit, candy, salad, good literature, flower and fancy tables did almost as well and the result was an in-pouring of shekels that made glad the heart of every endeavorer and especially of the social committee which had worked so hard to make the party a complete success. How well they succeeded the large number who attended can bear witness.

A most agreeable part of the evening's pleasures was a fine concert rendered by the Andover Brass band, under Bandmaster Bliss's direction. The concert started at 8 o'clock and for about an hour and a half a program of unusual delightfulness was rendered by the band, who gave their services, as follows:

March, The Relief Column. M. Bennett
Overture, Dawn. M. Williams
Mexican Dance. Moreno
Patrol, Advance. J. S. Cox
Schottische, Alice. George Thomas
Overture, Spring. Beyer
Selection, Tilly. Fred Wright
Gavotte, Alecsis. C. H. Newton
Finale, Scottish Chief. H. Munberger

The various tables were in charge of the following committees:
Good Literature table, Lookout committee, Miss Susie A. Gibson, chairman.
Candy table, Prayer Meeting committee, Miss Mary F. Mason, chairman.
Ice cream table, Social committee, Miss Grace Wright, chairman.
Flower table, Floral committee, Dr. A. I. Mackintosh, chairman.

Lemonade table, Temperance and Missionary committees, Jos. A. Green, chairman.

Salad table, Good Literature committee, Miss Violet Newman, chairman.
Fruit table, Music committee, Miss Maud M. Cole, in charge.
Fancy table, Miss Marcia Richards, Mrs. Arthur Smith and Miss Adah Hall.
Frappe table, Miss Agnes Abbott and Miss Maud Randall.

Thrown from His Wagon.

While riding on North Main street, near the Tye Rubber Co.'s works, last Saturday morning, Frank E. Gleason was thrown from his wagon over the dasher to the ground, but was fortunate in escaping with only bruises as the result of the accident.

As the car approached his horse, the animal became frightened and shied into a post used in supporting the trolley wire. The wheel caught, still further startling the horse which freed itself and dashed up the hill dragging Mr. Gleason, who hung on to the reins, over the dasher. He struck heavily on the ground but his injuries were apparently trifling.

The wagon was not damaged to any extent and the horse was quickly recovered.

Dr. Bancroft Sails for Europe.

Dr. Bancroft, who has been for a few weeks at his usual summer home in Mt. Vernon, N. H., decided to spend the remainder of his vacation abroad, and sails from New York for London on Saturday morning, the 20th, on the Manitu of the American Transport line. He expects to return by the Dominion line, sailing from Liverpool for Portland August 29. He gets thus the absolute rest of two long ocean passages. Andover heartily joins thousands of his pupils, near and far, in wishing him a pleasant, helpful voyage and a safe return.

Program for Next Concert.

The program for the next band concert to be given in the Square next Thursday evening will be as follows:
March—Strike up the Band Tom Clark
Overture—Felliea Gruenwald
Characteristic piece—Love's Confession S. E. Morris
Selection—Comic Opera Beyer
Old Scotch Song. C. H. Newton
Gavotte—Alecsis (request) Reeves
Patrol—Blue and Gray C. W. Bennett
March—The Relief Column

Andover Athletes at Pan-American

Several of this year's track team at Phillips academy, including Captain Schick, Ralph P. Kinney, Ward McLanahan and W. C. Matthews, participated in the national interscholastic meet at the Pan-American exposition, Buffalo, last Friday and Saturday, and the first named three succeeded in getting 10 points, together with the first place in the initial day's performances.

Schick won the first trial heat in the 100-yd. dash easily and Matthews finished in second place in the second trial heat. In the finals, Schick won out at the tape by an exceedingly narrow margin in 10 1-5 sec., with C. B. Long, of the Hill school, Pottstown, Pa., second, and W. B. Hunter, L. M. T. H. S. A. A., third. Matthews was not placed.

In the pole vault, Weir, of Mercersburg, got first place with a vault of 10 feet 6 inches. McLanahan only did 9 feet 6 inches, 8 inches below his record, but got second place. Ralph Kinney succeeded in putting the 12-lb. shot 46 feet 9 inches for first place, and threw the discus 97 feet 9 inches, good enough for second place in the event. Exeter had H. E. Smith, who did the 440 in 49 4-5 here in Andover, entered in the same event at the meet and he could only secure second place. Long, of the Hill school, won first in 50 1-5 seconds.

A Buffalo paper, commenting on the 100-yd. dash, said: "The like of that finish will never be seen here, for a napkin could have covered the heads of the three men." Each of the winners of first got gold medals, while the seconds received silver ones, and the thirds bronze.

William Ledwell, who has been in attendance at the exposition, and who wrote to the Townsman telling the story of the first day's events, said that Sidney Peet, Andover's trainer, who was acting as starter at the meet, told him that Capt. Schick was not feeling very well and would probably not win the 220 dash. Mr. Ledwell also said that Fallows had not shown up for the hurdles or broad jump, so that Andover stood little chance to win the second day's events and the meet. The results bore out his prognostications, as two points more, made by Schick by getting third place in the 220, were all Andover secured. The Hill school won the meet.

Concert Largely Attended.

The first band concert of the series, to be given in the Square this summer through the generous offer of the Andover Brass band and the open-handed subscriptions by the citizens, was held last Friday evening and from beginning to end it was a huge success.

A conservative estimate of the crowd who gathered to listen to the music would be a thousand people of all ages and descriptions. They came by the car load from Lawrence, Reading and other neighboring places. Everybody was happy, especially the storekeepers whose wares were in demand, for they raked in a goodly number of the coin of the realm. Had the night been a little warmer, their business would have been better than it was.

Everybody says that the band did great work, and their varied program was played in a manner pleasing to the listeners, as the frequent and hearty applause gave testimony. Bandmaster Bliss and his corps of musicians certainly did themselves justice.

The concert was given from a temporary stand erected on J. H. Flint's land next to the Mugrove block on Elm street, lighted by electricity furnished by the kindness of the Andover Electric Light company.

Following was the program:
March, Queen of the Antilles. J. M. Missad
(Introducing the Cuban National Hymn)
Waltzes, Santa Lucia. A. Boscoli
Overture, All the Rage. Beyer
Selection, Tootsio Tasso. Donizetti
Two step, Cool Hollow Capers. F. R. Gillette
Waltzes, When Knighthood was in Flower. L. V. Gaslin
Gavotte, Youth and Grace. Gruenwald
March, B. C. B. C. H. Newton

Underground Wires.

The laying of the conduits by the New England Telephone and Telegraph company to contain their trunk line wires will be finished on Monday or Tuesday next.

This will complete their underground line from Boston to Haverhill. The main line starts at Boston and continues through Charlestown, Malden, Waverley, Reading, Wilmington and Tewksbury to Lowell. At Tewksbury the line branches, and passing through West Andover and South Lawrence is carried to Haverhill.

It is the intention of the company to extend the line to Portland, Me., at an early date.

The work, which has been pushed at the rate of 1000 to 1500 feet per day, has been in charge of James W. Mowett of Boston. Much credit is due to him for the careful manner in which he has finished up his work. It is his intention to have the town steam road roller go over the trenches from the South Lawrence to the Tewksbury line today if possible.

Previous to accepting a position with the N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co., Mr. Mowett constructed state highways in the West.

I. O. O. F. Installation.

The recently elected officers of Andover lodge, No. 230, I. O. O. F., were installed last Monday evening by D. D. G. M. Charles H. Robinson and staff of North Andover. After the installation a collation was served. The officers installed were as follows: N. G. A. Lincoln Cates; V. G., Ballard Holt; Warden, George Lindsay; Conductor, George Dunnells; O. G., John Nee; I. G., Horace Bodwell; R. S. N. G., Frank Holt; L. S. N. G., James May; R. S. V. G., Arthur Jackson; L. S. V. G., Arthur Holt; Chaplain, Charles H. Newman; R. S. S., Charles A. Hill; L. PAVING GOES BACK

Space Between the Rails of the L. & B. and L. & R. Roads to be Paved with Granite Blocks of a Better Quality than Before.

At a special meeting of the board of selectmen, held last Tuesday, some changes were made in the franchises of the L. & B. and of the L. L. & H. road, now a part of the Lynn & Boston system. The changes were suggested by the vice-president and general manager of the Lynn & Boston road, E. C. Foster, and were accepted by the selectmen for the town and by officials of both the Lynn & Boston and Lawrence & Reading roads.

The action taken by the selectmen is set forth in the following order:

1. From the northerly side of Elm Square to the top of Andover Hill, the westerly tracks, (recently of the Lowell, Lawrence & Haverhill Street Railway Company) shall be relaid with 9 inch 3/4 grooved girder rails and the space between the rails shall be paved with Philadelphia Granite Blocks to the satisfaction of the Board of Selectmen, but a portion of the old blocks if they are as good in all respects as the Philadelphia Blocks may be used if satisfactory to said Board.

2. From the northerly side of the Square to the top of Andover Hill, the easterly tracks (the tracks located under the franchise of the Lawrence & Reading Street Railway Company) shall be laid with the same kind of girder rails as the westerly rails and the spaces between the easterly rails shall be paved with the same kind of granite blocks and in the same manner in all respects as the above described paving.

3. The space five feet in width in the centre of the street between the westerly and easterly tracks shall be paved with the same kind of granite blocks and in the same manner in all respects as the above described paving.

A true copy,
Attest,
ABRAHAM MARLAND,
Town Clerk.

Thus it will be seen that the town is still to have paving between the rails of the tracks on Main street, but it is a consolation to think that the old culls are not going back.

The Lynn & Boston road have laid their new rails about down to Salem street and during the latter part of the week have been at work connecting their rails with those of the Lawrence & Reading road so that the cars of the latter company may be run down nearer the place in which the Lynn & Boston cars are forced to stop as the work of relaying rails goes on.

One Cow Ten Men.

"Moolie" was being driven to the depot en-route for pastures new and green, presumably, but "Moolie" was obstinate and did not want to go along a little bit. Persuaded by urgent measures, a cut with the whip, shouts, slaps on the flank, etc., after sundry dashes in almost any old direction, to the delighted terror of the pack of wretches who had gathered to watch her antics, she finally reached the vicinity of the car which was to be her travelling abode for the time being.

She reached the vicinity, but once there her obstinacy took on an acute form, and go up the inclined platform which led to the car she would not. Just to fool her drivers, who had by this time been supplemented by pretty nearly the whole freight and depot force, and a dozen or so others who had become interested spectators and advisory board, she would start in the proper direction, only to just avoid the awaiting incline and get into the space between car and platform. From this retreat, driven forth she would charge recklessly and indiscriminately across the street, only to be turned and driven back to repeat the thing all over again.

Varying the monotony she did a fast 100 yards up the street with her driver hanging, or endeavoring to, to her nose. She crossed the railway tracks just barely in advance of a wild freight train, and proceeded up Essex street. Finally her wild career was again brought back to short, and once more she started back to the depot. A train in the station gave "Moolie" an opportunity to stand in the shade and get her breath for her next effort. This time she over-shot the depot entirely and after giving them a good run for their money finally allowed herself, not exactly gracefully, to be brought back with a twist on her nose, and was boosted at last upon the platform and into the car.

Obituary.

MRS. SUSAN F. BROWN.

The death of Mrs. Susan F. Brown, wife of Benjamin Brown, occurred Sunday afternoon, at the City Hospital, Boston, where she had been taken for treatment about two weeks before. For months Mrs. Brown had been a great sufferer with a distressing skin disease of a very painful nature which has required all her patience and fortitude to bear. She was attended by several physicians who did everything in their power to relieve her sufferings, and it was finally on the advice of specialists, that she was taken to the hospital in order that nothing might be left undone to effect a cure. It seemed for a time that the disease might be overcome, but the strength of the patient was not sufficient to withstand the severe strain, and death came finally to carry her away from all pain.

Mrs. Brown was born in Andover, December 10, 1836, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Burr. She had spent most of her life in town and was widely known and much respected, being very active in the work of the South church. She is survived by her husband and one son, George, besides one brother and five sisters.

Funeral services were conducted at the family home on Park street, at two o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, by Rev. F. R. Shipman, pastor of the South church. The services were attended by a large number of relatives, neighbors and friends of the deceased, and the display of floral tributes was very beautiful. The body was laid at rest in Spring Grove cemetery.

A TRIBUTE

On Sunday, July 14th, there passed from our midst one of those whom her friends, both in Andover and elsewhere, have delighted to honor, respect and love.

Mrs. Susan F. Brown, wife of our well known fellow townsman, Benjamin Brown, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Burr, was born in Ballardvale, Dec. 10, 1836. Quiet and simple in her taste, modest and self-sacrificing, yet she was a tower of strength, when strength was needed. One could converse with her for only a short time without feeling that her living was on a high plane.

A faithful and devoted wife and mother, a loving sister, a kind friend and sympathetic neighbor, her removal leaves a vacancy which it seems impossible to fill.

For half a century she has been a church member, and her daily life well exemplified the religion she professed. Her great interest in the church, and all that pertained to it, is well known. At the time of her death she was a deaconess in the South church and president of its Maternal association, in which she had taken, for thirty-seven years, a deep interest.

In the other church organizations she was an active helper and was a constant attendant at the mid-week services and a member of the Sunday-school.

At the funeral services conducted on Tuesday, at her late home, by her pastor, Rev. Mr. Shipman, the hymns, "Lead Kindly Light" and "Nearer My God to Thee," were sung by a quartet. The floral tributes were of great beauty, attesting the love of relatives, friends and neighbors.

"The memory of the just is blessed."

GEORGE H. LANG.

The death of George Henry Lang, at his home in Rye Center, N. H., last week, at the age of seventy-four years, removes one who was formerly a resident of this place and who is well known here to many. He is survived by one son and one daughter.

Mr. Lang was a veteran of the civil war, and a member of Storer post at his home town. Nearly every year for many recent ones, however, he has come to Andover on Memorial day to march with the local comrades.

He was very proud of the honor of belonging to the G. A. R., and was a friend of everybody, winning their esteem by his genial, kindly nature.

The funeral was held at his late home, Sunday at 2:30 o'clock.

Card.

We wish to express to all our friends and neighbors our thanks for, and our appreciation of, their many acts of kindness and sympathy during our recent bereavement.

"A Soldier in Two Armies"

The above is the title of a book which is being read by the pen of the pastor of the West church, Rev. G. A. Andrews, a neat volume of 123 pages.

A Soldier in Two Armies is a true-to-life record of the eventful years in the life of a remarkable lad of sixteen. Equipped with the qualities which only a fine parental heritage can supply, he yet had much to conquer in order to satisfy his own ideal of what the boy and the growing man should be. The book fulfills a varied mission, and both the youth and grown-up may find interest and inspiration therein. Parents may realize, as never before, how much is due to the home life, which, more than any other influence, makes for the character of the young, with the happy, interested companionship of parent and child instead of the given authority alone of superior to inferior.

Let the boys read for themselves how Carl, overflowing with fondness for all healthy fun, not lacking one whit in manly courage, treated the boy who struck him in the face. Let them find how he championed the rights of his smaller mates whenever they were oppressed. Let Example, that most powerful of all sermons, preach to them how the earnest Christian life may walk hand in hand with the wholesome athletic life; how the union of these lives makes the lad so courageous, so obedient, so faithful to the smallest trust both at home and at school, was made a soldier-boy, and how, for these very reasons, he was advanced in his regiment. Let the pathetic close of so briefly useful an unselfish life write in letters which only Time itself can efface. "The secret of life is loving self-sacrifice."

The book is on sale at the Andover Bookstore and should have a wide reading by the youth of our town.

ESSEX COUNTY CLUB.

Where an Andover Boy Is Located Summer, and What He Is Doing.

It was the good fortune of the Townsman's correspondent to be able to spend a pleasant hour, on Tuesday, with the genial master of St. Matthews lodge, Harry A. Ramsdell, at the Essex County club, Manchester-by-the-Sea, where he is located as accountant throughout the summer. His is a position of responsibility, but one which is especially desirable not only from a monetary point of view, but also from the fact that it brings him into touch with some of the foremost men of the county, state and country.

The County club is beautifully situated in the midst of about 125 acres of fine wood and meadow land, surrounded by handsome estates and residences, and only a half mile or so from the village. On the club's property thousands upon thousands of dollars have been expended outside the club-house, itself commodious, and fitted with every convenience one could desire. The polo field, the tennis courts, the many shrubs, the sheds and stables, and last but by no means least, the golf links, all are of the very finest.

Andover golfers, pause, and consider for a moment a course of eighteen holes with distances between the holes ranging from 140 to 500 yards, making the entire distance to be played over about three miles. Isn't that a course well worth one's while? Every yard of the links in sight from the club house, only a small proportion of the whole, you may be sure, is as smooth, and in fact is a regular lawn, assuring a perfect lie for the ball. But there are plenty of hazards and hills, brooks and woods to try the souls and test the skill of any golfer. It takes about two and one-half hours to play over the links, the teeing ground and last hole being near the club house, of course.

The house is beautifully designed and the interior decorating and furnishings are very handsome. Both ladies' and gentlemen's portions are arranged with a view to comfort, convenience and necessity. The force of interior employees amounts to some twenty-five persons, while the superintendent of the grounds, Mr. Baker, has a force under him ranging from fifty up into the hundreds, according to the requirements of the day. The membership of the club numbers about 300.

In his office on the second floor, Mr. Ramsdell is most comfortably located and has at the tip of his fingers the affairs of the club, the charge of the club's book keeping, besides also looking after the golf players in the way of keeping track of their entries, etc. Although rather busy, Mr. Ramsdell may be said to enjoy every minute of his employment in such a place.

Down in the village, full in the midst of the business section of delightful Manchester-by-the-Sea, is located an attractive building from the second story of which projects an odd-shaped bay window. Just below, against the stuccoed side of the building, there hangs a modest sign which bears the name "Harry A. Ramsdell, L.L. D., Attorney-at-Law," showing that his business in the courts is not being neglected. And Harry says he is doing well there, besides keeping up the Salem office by the assistance of his partner. He wished to be remembered to all his Andover friends, whom he expects to see himself in a few days.

Better Visit Andover.

It would seem from the perusal of an item in last week's Reading Chronicle about the giving of transfers from the top of the hill where the Lawrence & Reading line ends to the Square and vice versa, that the Chronicle man's ideas as to the names of the roads running into Andover and the localities in which they run must be very vague. He would better run up to Andover for a few hours and look around, then he will be in a position to more correctly state the case than he did in the item referred to. For his information, however, let it be known that the Lowell & Suburban railroad has never had anything to do with Andover, because the Lawrence, Lowell & Haverhill company now the Lynn and Boston, has always considered itself capable of caring for its traffic in town; also, that no cars run to the depot, unfortunately, and to the sorrow of many of Andover's best citizens. He thinks Reading is "discriminated against," but evidently has not considered the fact that the Lawrence & Reading cars run directly to the centre of the town at Reading, while in Andover the people of the town were forced to walk a good mile to reach the business section or pay another fare.

Here is what the Chronicle man had to say:

"The free transfer system is in operation in Andover between the Lowell & Suburban and the Lawrence and Reading St. Rys., so that it is now possible to get to Andover centre or the station without paying extra fare. Since the Lowell & Suburban is a part of the Lynn & Boston system, the same reasons which brought about the establishment of transfers in Andover prevail here, and it will require considerable explanation to convince Reading people that they have not been discriminated against."

TAKE THEM IN.—Quite a considerable interest has been displayed by the horsemen of New England in the summer meeting of the Breeders Mile Track Association which is to be held at Old Orchard July 16 to 18. The purses offered are of sufficient size to attract the fast horses hereabouts and the entries are well filled. The Old Orchard track is in fine condition and with good weather there is every reason to believe that this series of races will be as good as any ever held at Old Orchard. For those who have never visited this famous resort it is quite in line to say that it is one of the finest beaches on the American Coast. There are ample accommodations of first class order and the modes of amusement are entirely up to date. The Boston and Maine R. R. has placed low rate tickets on sale for this meet, which will include an admission to the races. Ask your ticket agent about them.

Lynn, 66; Andover, 46.

At Beach Bluff, last Saturday afternoon, the local eleven played an interesting game with the Lynn club, which the latter won by 20 runs. Andover travelled with only nine players and two substitutes were picked up at the grounds who had never seen cricket played. As a consequence, the batting suffered, although the fielding was sure and sharp. Bruce was absent and Rhodes captained the team in his place.

Lynn batted first on a fast crease and made a good opening against the bowling of Dundas and Rhodes, the first wicket falling at 17 runs. The second and third went down at 18, and the fourth and fifth at 20. Things looked blue for the Lynns, but the tail stood up well and when the last wicket fell 66 runs were totalled. Greenwood played a very careful inning for 13 runs. Saunders did the best bowling for Andover and took 5 wickets for 28 runs.

Andover had hopes of beating the score and Ritchie and Parkinson started out. After two runs had been scored, the latter played a fast rising ball back to the bowler and was easily held. Saunders was easily beat by a ball which he first expected to drive, but afterwards changed his mind to his loss. Dundas and H. Kydd played well and along with W. MacDermitt brought the score up to 46. Ritchie and MacDermitt both got into double figures with 13 and 11.

The two subs furnished some amusement for the spectators when at the bat, being at a loss what to do after hitting the ball.

Andover really played only 9 men and the showing made was very creditable, Lynn having its best available team out. Jessop bowled well, taking 5 wickets for 19. Devlin took 3 for 5.

An interesting feature was the rolling of the crease by an auto-roller, propelled by gasoline, designed and constructed by John J. Hey, the captain of the Lynn club, who is at present in England. The machine worked very satisfactorily and is a boon for cricket creases.

The Andover cricket team will play the Lynn Wanderers at Andover, Saturday. Andover will be represented by the following: Bruce, Rhodes, Parkinson, MacDermitt, Ritchie, Dundas, Saunders, Dane, Poland, Pease, A. Dick; reserves, Lowe.

The Andover Cricket team expects to make a good showing against Lynn Wanderers Saturday, as the club will be represented by a strong eleven.

A special meeting of the Andover Cricket club will be held in the club house next Friday evening at 7.45 o'clock.

Good progress is being made in the construction of the tennis courts on the Andover Cricket club grounds.

The Rose.

The rose, the sweetly blooming rose, Err from the tree it's torn, Is like the charms which beauty shows In life's exalting morn.

But oh! how soon its sweets are gone, How soon it withering lies, Lo, when the eve of life comes on Sweet beauty fades and dies.

Then, since the fairest flower that's made Soon withering we shall find, Let us possess what never will fade; The beauties of the mind.

New Rifle Range.

The city government committee on military and a moi is inspecting the proposed new rifle range for the local militia in Andover Tuesday afternoon. The members of the committee present were Mayor Leonard, Aldermen Flossie and Councilmen Casey and Pilsch. The committee was accompanied by John Golden, inspector of rifle practice; Capt. Sands of Co. F, Paul Hannagan, who owns the land on which the range is situated, and a representative of The Telegram.

The committee took an Andover car on the L. & N. soon after 2 p. m. and went to Frye village. Fifteen minutes' walk brought the party to the range, which is situated in West Andover, to the north of Lowell street, and it is admirably adapted for the use desired. The distance from one ridge to the other is 1400 yards, while a range of 600 yards is at that end at present. It is proposed to shoot from the south ridge against the north ridge, which is high and steep and just this kind of a backdrop for bullets that is desired.

Inspector Golden told the committee that it would be impossible for marksmen to shoot over the ridge, so that the danger of accident is very small. A pit will be built at the foot of the north ridge to afford safe protection to the marksmen who have charge of the targets during a shoot. At a distance of 200 yards from the targets will be a house, large or small, according to the decision of the committee as regards the amount of money which will be devoted to putting the range in shape, from which some shooting will be done, and in which visiting soldiers can be entertained. At the 500 yard mark there will be a sort of a covered stand for the marksmen and a similar structure at the 600 yard mark.

The range will be properly enclosed and warning signs posted along the entire firing line. Space enough will thus be closed to travel to reduce to a minimum the danger of shooting anyone. While nature has provided amply against such danger at this point, further precautions will be taken and the men will shoot from a position in a specially prepared embankment of timber and sand, the purpose of which will be to stop all stray bullets before they leave even the firing point. By the arrangement described, if a marksman's rifle happens to be aimed in an order to the right or left at the time of firing the bullet will be stopped at once, striking the timber a few feet from the muzzle of the gun. This is the arrangement which Inspector Golden says will make it impossible to shoot over the crest of the north ridge or to the right or left of it.

It is estimated that the cost of placing this range in condition for use will be small in comparison with the amount which would have to be expended on a less favorable location. As the city is obliged by law to supply a range it is regarded as fortunate that there is a place so admirably suited for the purpose in the vicinity.

The members of the committee expressed themselves as pleased with the location. As soon as they can get an estimate of what it will cost to fix up the range they will submit an order to the government recommending a certain appropriation for the purpose. The land will probably be leased from Mr. Hannagan for a term of ten years. The range will be constructed by Supt. Kingston, under the direction of Inspector Golden and other authorities. It is probable that Supt. Kingston will inspect several other ranges before beginning the work.

Planking and other paraphernalia used at the old range on the Haverhill road will probably be utilized to some extent in fixing up the new range.

TROUBLES OF A MINISTER.

To benefit others Rev. J. T. W. Ver non, of Hartwell, Ga., writes: "For a long time I had a running sore on my leg. I tried many remedies without benefit, until I used a bottle of Electric Bitters and a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which cured me sound and well." Sores, Eruptions, Boils, Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum show impure blood. Thousands have found in Electric Bitters a grand blood purifier that absolutely cures these troubles. Satisfaction is guaranteed or money refunded by Arthur Bliss. Large bottles only 50c.

SAME TAX RATE.

The assessors announced the valuation and the tax rate for 1901 Friday morning.

There is no change in the tax rate, which is still $15.00 per $1000. The valuation has been increased $802,276, the total valuation for this year being $40,602,948, against $39,800,672 for 1900.

The following figures regarding the valuation for 1901 are interesting: Real estate of residents, $20,966,950; personal estate of residents, $3,657,675; total value of property of residents, $24,624,625; real estate of non residents, $2,576,700; personal estates of non residents, $186,800; total value of property of non residents, $2,763,500; real estate of corporations, $7,578,250; personal estate of corporations, $5,316,573; total value of property of corporations, $13,194,823; total value of real estate in the city, $31,441,900; total value of personal property, $9,152,948; total valuation, $40,602,948; total valuation for 1900, $39,800,672; gain for 1901, $802,276.

There is quite an increase in the number of polls over last year, the total number this year being 17,031. The total number of polls last year was 16,620, making a gain in polls for 1901 of 401.

The amount to be raised by taxation is $665,953.43, the following amounts making this total: State tax, $23,852.50; state army tax, $4,625.16; state highway tax, $13,590; county tax, $33,346.66; city appropriations, $604,127.61.

The state highway tax is a new one and the increase in the county and state tax amounts to about $5000 over last year's tax.

PROBATE COURT.

Probate court for Essex county was held in Salem Tuesday, Judge Harmon presiding. The business transacted will be found below:

Administrations were granted on estates of Letitia C. Bunker, Salem; Emeline Burnham, Essex; James Choate, Newburyport; Ruth Clark, Newburyport; George W. Collins, Amesbury; Wm. E. Craig, Newburyport; Kate Hallisey, Salem; John Hetherington, Lynn; Betsey E. Kimball, West Newbury; John F. Lord, Ipswich; Andrew Lime, Ipswich; Ella Morrill, Amesbury; E. Granville Perkins, Peabody; Sumner Richardson, Swampscott; Arnold H. Salisbury, Lawrence; Flora E. Sampson, Lynn; Hannah Scannell, Lawrence; James S. Stevens, Danvers; James C. Stone, Ipswich; Story Tarr, Rockport and Susan F. Todd, Rowley.

The following wills proved: Margaret H. Bond, Martha E. Brown and Ellen Whalen of Lynn; Calvin Buttrick of Haverhill; Lucy G. Clark of Gloucester; Elia Farrington of Danvers; Lydia M. Ferguson of Searsport; David J. Folger of Amesbury; Daniel J. Poore of Merrimack; Peletiah D. Rogers of Newbury; Mary A. Underwood of Andover; William L. Worcester of Danvers.

To Improve Grounds.

A meeting of the executive board of the Arlington district played a comedy was held last night in the rooms of the Methuen cricket club. With the idea of interesting the younger people in the work so that they would be the more interested in preserving order, and preventing injury to the grounds, it was voted to add two more young men to the executive board. Louis Golden and Fred Hoyle were chosen. It was decided to issue cards for admission to the grounds which can be obtained by anyone in town free of charge. It was also decided to have the grounds enclosed by a fence and have the gates opened at 6 a. m. and closed at 9 p. m. The grounds have now been fitted up well and the reports at the meeting showed that much interest was being taken in the matter.

The committee strongly urged that the boys organize themselves into an improvement and athletic society. At the meeting last night a strong protest was made against the use of the swings by the older people, for these swings were placed under the shade of the children, but of late have been monopolized, especially in the evening by the older people.

The officers of the committee of 25 who are in charge of the playstead are Rev. W. B. Taylor, chairman, John T. Mannfield, vice chairman, Joseph C. Teal, secretary, Robert Driver treasurer. The executive committee consists of the officers together with Henry H. Crompton, Louis Golden and Fred Hoyle.

TO NEWPORT.

Col. W. H. Donovan of the Ninth regiment has received an invitation from Gen. Joseph Wheeler to have his regiment participate in the grand parade of fete day at Newport, R. I., on July 31. The invitation will undoubtedly be accepted.

A similar invitation has been extended to the Second regiment. Gen. Wheeler, who will be marshal of the parade, saw the two organizations at Santiago three years ago and he has not forgotten them and their soldierly bearing.

Gen. Wheeler has also written to Gov. Crane, asking him if he would: assist the two organizations and extend the regiments every possible facility if they arrange to come.

The idea is entirely the general's, but it is needless to say that all Newport is in harmony with it. Gen. Wheeler wants to have the two regiments of the Spanish war in the procession as possible.

It is thought that there will be 300 men in line, including the men from the North Atlantic fleet, naval cadets, naval brigade, 10th and 11th regiments. The naval reserves from New York, New London, Fall River and Rhode Island will be asked to take part in the parade. Secretary of War Root and Secretary of the Navy Long have been invited to be present.

The North Atlantic squadron, New York yacht club fleet, training and torpedo stations, war college and fortifications will be illuminated at night, while the fete committee has arranged for electric illuminations about the harbor. Cottagers along the water front will brilliantly illuminate their estates. There will be a grand display of fireworks and many band concerts.

PASSED RESOLUTIONS.

At a recent meeting of physicians of Lawrence the following resolutions on the death of Dr. Houston were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove, while in the full vigor of manhood and in the midst of his professional labors, our beloved colleague and brother, James Houston.

Be it Resolved, that we, the physicians of Lawrence assembled, while bowing in humble submission to the Divine will, do cherish the memory of Dr. James Houston for his many sterling qualities, not the least of which was his ever readiness to ameliorate and relieve the sufferings of his fellowmen.

Resolved, That in the death of Dr. James Houston the city has lost one of its foremost citizens, the community an honest, upright man, and the medical profession a shining light.

Be it resolved, That these resolutions be sent to the Evening Tribune, to the columns of which he was so often a contributor; also that a copy be suitably engrossed and sent to the bereaved family.

R. M. BIRMINGHAM, WATKINS R. O'CONNOR, WILLIAM J. SULLIVAN, Committee on Resolutions.

DEATH STATISTICS.

There 16 deaths reported to the Board of Health last week, eight under five years and one over 50 years.

The cases were: Apoplexy, phthisis, enteritis, infantile debility, convulsions, enteritis, senile pneumonia, unknown natural causes, premature birth, one each; tuberculosis, meningitis, two each; cholera infantum, three.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; and cases of this kind are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous membranes.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

At Country Club.

A mixed foursome handicap was played on the Country club grounds Saturday afternoon. There were 18 entries and three prizes offered. For best gross and net prizes were won by L. D. Norton and Miss Gussie Cheney, score 105. Miss Cheney's score was as good as ever made upon the grounds by a lady. The next lower score was made by Mat Stuart and Miss Stuart, score 115. Tea was served at the club, the attendance being the largest ever had. Those in charge were Mrs. Dr. Howard, Mrs. Andrew C. Stone, Mrs. William Oswald and Mrs. J. K. Colby of Methuen.

The score was as follows:

HOTEL TO BE REMODELED.

Extensive alterations and improvements are to be made this summer at the Hotel Brunswick, from plans drawn by Architect James L. Ellis. The changes will cover the entire hotel.

The bar will be relocated so as to occupy the space on the ground floor now used as a dining room. It will be considerably enlarged and the room will be decorated. The part now used for a bar will be converted into an office and lounging room.

The dining hall will be on the second floor. It will occupy a large space fronting on the street, and will be lighted by large plate glass windows. The remainder of the second floor fronting the street will be made a parlor. The kitchen will be placed in the rear of the second story, and will be much larger than heretofore. The front entrances will remain unchanged.

It is expected that the work will be completed before winter.

MORTALITY RECORD FOR JUNE.

The mortality record of the Board of Health for the month of June, just issued, shows that the total number of deaths in June was 70, including 30 males and 40 females. There were 11 still births. Of those who died 33 were born in Lawrence, six were natives of Massachusetts, four of other states, seven of Canada, five of England, one of France, two of Germany, eight of Ireland, two of Scotland and one of Syria.

Four persons were between 80 and 90 years of age, four between 70 and 80, ten between 60 and 70, nine between 50 and 60, six between 40 and 50, nine between 30 and 40, two between 20 and 30, one between 10 and 20, eight between one and ten, 17 under one year.

Six deaths were caused by the extreme heat and three persons were drowned. During the month there were 13 cases of contagious diseases reported, including ten cases of diphtheria and three cases of typhoid fever. Three of the diphtheria patients died.

IN LAWRENCE JAIL.

Deputy Sheriffs Briggs and Bishop came to this city Tuesday with King and Tyler, the two criminals who made a desperate attempt to break jail and made the savage attack upon their jailers at Newburyport, Monday night, who will be kept in jail here to await trial in the superior court.

The court sits in Lawrence in September, and the county authorities thought it best to send King and Tyler to the larger jail in this city, where the facilities for feeding, clothing, checking on such desperate characters are better than they are at Newburyport.

Reports from Newburyport state that Col. Ayers is suffering considerably from the effects of the blows he received upon his head, and is feeling it more on account of the heat. His son, Edward R. Ayers, was no worse yesterday for the encounter except for the cuts and bruises he received.

ACCEPTS PLANS.

At a meeting of both branches of the city government, held Monday, it was voted unanimously to accept the offer of the White Fund trustees in regard to the construction and maintenance of a large addition to the public library. An order was adopted which binds the city to pay $1600 a year for 20 years to the White Fund trustees as rent, the trustees to expend $55,000 in building the proposed addition.

It was also voted to buy a new hook and ladder truck for the fire department.

CONTRACT AWARDED.

At a meeting of the Methuen School commission held Wednesday night, a contract for building the Barker school was awarded to James H. Lyons of Methuen, whose figures for the building complete, barring heating amounted to $350. The next to the lowest bidder was Frank Buckminster, also of Methuen, whose bid amounted to $330.

Work on the structure will commence at once and the building will probably be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the fall term. A bond of $1200 was required of the contractor.

Miss Margaret O'Neill is visiting her uncle in Haverhill.

Miss Alice Newsholme and Miss Merville Bemis have returned to their home in Maine after a month's visit with friends on Tenney street.

The work of macadamizing Hampshire street above the public library is being rapidly pushed along. The street has already been completed from the Salem, N. H., line as far as the residence of W. H. H. Dodge.

The school committee have accepted the offer of Stephen J. Barker for the old Barker school building. The building will be removed at once to a lot across the street and the town given the privilege of occupying the same until the new structure is completed.

Charles E. Barker of 11 Tenney street left Sunday for a week's visit at the Pan American exposition at Buffalo, N. Y. He went in company with the employees of the Worcester Salt Co. and during his trip will visit the springs in New York, from which the salt is obtained.

Miss Margaret Spear, daughter of Frederick A. Spear, of Lowell, formerly of this town, and a teacher in the Lowell public schools, sailed by the Dominion line last Monday for Europe. Miss Spear has been granted one year's absence by the Lowell school committee and will study in Paris and Rome under native teachers.

A. H. Clarke, D. G. C., accompanied by Sidney Poole as grand peltate; Geo. A. Hunting as grand keeper of records and seal; and Charles H. Emerson as grand master-at-arms, all of whom are past chancellors of Keams lodge, Knights of Pythias, of this town, went to Lowell last evening and installed the officers elect of Chevalier lodge, 2, of that city. The same grand officers will go to Lowell again tomorrow evening and install the officers of Middlesex lodge, 58, K. of P.

Funeral services for Mrs. Coriea Welton, who had resided in this town for nearly half a century, were held at her late home, 11 Tenney street, Saturday afternoon. Rev. William S. Scarle, pastor of St. Paul's church, Lawrence, officiated. During the services a quartet from St. Paul's church sang appropriate selections. There were many relatives and friends present at the services. The remains were interred in Bellevue cemetery, Lawrence. The pallbearers were A. W. Charles H. Carleton and Burpee T. Welton, the four sons of Mrs. Welton.

That the new playstead on Lowell street is appreciated by the younger element of the town is evidenced by the large number of boys who are upon the playstead engaged in ball games and other sports during the day and early evening. The boys are, however, somewhat careless as to their actions and some of the residents nearby have made complaint to the authorities about the language used by the boys while at play. Unless the boys are more careful and there is danger that they may be deprived of some of their privileges on the playstead.

The farmers and milk dealers in town are, according to all reports, having much difficulty in supplying the demand for milk this year. On account of the dry spell the cows are not giving as much milk this year as they usually do at this season, and the result is that the milkmen find it difficult to supply their regular customers. The sore-keepers who sell milk are unable to obtain more than one-third as much as they usually have from a cow in this line. The scarcity is due to the heat and drought of the past months.

The annual picnic of the Congregational Sunday school was held Tuesday at Canobie lake. A large number were in attendance and a most enjoyable day was spent. During the day games and sports were enjoyed at the lake, prizes being offered for the various contests. The contests resulted as follows: 100 yards dash, boys under ten, won by Charles Newsholme; 100 yards dash, boys between 10 and 15, won by Desires Quessy; 100 yards dash, boys over 15, won by Charles Norris; girls' 50 yard dash won by Ella Flahive; running broad jump, boys between 12 and 15, won by Frank Mills; running broad jump, boys over 15, won by Merrill Gaunt; high jump, boys over 15, won by William Hubbard; high jump, boys under 15, resulted in a tie between Frank Mills and Desires Quessy; 3-legged race, won by Robert Mills and Frank Mills; sack race, won by Robert Mills; boat race, over 15, won by William Hubbard; boat race, under 15, won by Tyler Douglas. The various sports were entered into with enthusiasm and afforded much enjoyment. Bowling and boating were enjoyed, and lemonade was served free. The picnic was a pronounced success. There were no accidents of any moment, although one youth, Arthur Bailey, persisted in falling into the lake.

From Needed.

An adjourned special town meeting was held in Methuen town hall Saturday afternoon at which there was only a small attendance of the voters. Granville E. Foss acted as moderator.

William D. Hartshorne, chairman of the school committee, reported that a modification had been made in the plans for new school buildings and recommended that the sum of $23,000 be appropriated—$18,000 to be expended on the Oakland avenue building and $5,000 for the Barker school.

The report of the committee was accepted and on motion of Alfred Newsholme it was voted to appropriate $5,000 for a new school building in the Barker district in accordance with the plans prepared and it was also voted to authorize the committee to sell the old building. The same committee previously appointed, with the addition of George W. Copp, will have charge of the construction of the new building.

Besides Mr. Copp the committee consists of the school committee, J. M. Tenney and J. O. Parker.

After the appropriation for the Barker school had been made, Hon. J. O. Parker moved that the sum of $18,000 be appropriated for land and buildings for the Oakland school building. On motion of Mr. Newsholme that the further consideration of the whole question be postponed until the annual town meeting in March next, a debate ensued which was participated in by A. Newsholme, C. D. Holman and Selwin A. Dodge in the affirmative, J. O. Parker, W. D. Hartshorne and David H. Ackroyd in the negative, after which it was voted almost unanimously to postpone to the annual meeting.

By request of the voters that the committee appointed to consider the matter of indemnifying Ernest N. Gaunt, who lost an eye in the High school laboratory, report at the next annual meeting. The committee is as follows: Edwin J. Castle, Albert L. Dame, Kirk F. Brown, C. Frank Swain and Lorin O. Norris.

Town Clerk Joseph S. Howe made the following statement to the meeting: The coupons of the town water board are payable at the National Bank of Redemption in Boston. Some time since a counterfeit coupon was presented for payment, and the town officers were immediately notified. As soon as notice was received the matter was placed in the hands of the chief of the state police and the bond has since been located. It is said to be a poor counterfeit, the numbers being executed in ink, while the genuine ones are engraved. To relieve the bank of all responsibility the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

That the town of Methuen agrees to indemnify the National Bank of Redemption for any loss in the payment of water bond coupons, and that the selectmen be authorized to sign an agreement in behalf of the town to indemnify said bank from such loss.

It was then voted to adjourn.

Mrs. Helen F. Spooner, Mrs. M. A. Clarendon White and Miss Spooner are at Straw's Point, near Portsmouth, N. H. for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Emerson and Mrs. C. E. Puffer and children have returned from Old Orchard. Mrs. Puffer will return to her home in Thomaston, Conn., Saturday.

The Sunday school of the Baptist church held their annual picnic at Salisbury beach Saturday. About 75 attended. The party left on special cars from Methuen to Haverhill, from whence the steamer Merrimack conveyed them to Black Rocks, and from there were taken to Salisbury beach by the dummy. The day was ideal, and everything passed off in first class order. After spending the day at the beach the return trip was made by the same route. The party returned home about 8 o'clock P. M. The committee in charge consisted of George B. Bradbury, Varum C. Sanborn and John Barker.

One of the most successful field days ever held by the Sunday school of the Primitive Methodist church was held Saturday on the grounds of Alfred Newsholme, off Oakland avenue. Some 300 were present. All kinds of games and sports were enjoyed during the day and all who attended enjoyed themselves greatly. The contests afforded much pleasure to the spectators, as well as the participants. Refreshments and candies were on sale about the grounds, the committee having charge of this part of the affair being Mrs. Dyson, Mrs. Susan Crossley, Miss Jennie Hammer, Mrs. W. B. Taylor, Mrs. John Briggs and Mrs. Fred Donkin. Joseph Bentley had charge of the ice cream. The general committee in charge comprised: Rev. W. B. Taylor, Supt. of Sunday School; Fred Diles, J. Frank Craven and Alfred Mannfield.

A surprise party was tendered Miss Anna Remick at her home on Hill street, Saturday night, it being the occasion of her 17th birthday. The guests assembled at the house during the absence of Miss Remick and upon her return she was pleasantly surprised to find her home filled with her companions. She was equal to the occasion, however, and at once proceeded to entertain her guests and making all feel entirely at home. During the evening Harry Irving, in behalf of the guests, presented Miss Remick with a book. Refreshments were served during the evening and social diversions enjoyed. Miss Remick favored her guests by singing a number of readings. Among those present were Harry Irving, Henry Lea, Elmer Coburn, Theron E. Fisher, Thurlow and Herbert Gordon, Alfred and Ernest Gaunt, Ivan Gaskin, Carl Sells and Misses Fred Diles, J. Frank Craven and Alfred Mannfield.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

Dr. Amos N. Webster, the well known veterinary surgeon, was quite badly shaken up in a runaway accident on the Howe road Monday. Dr. Webster was out driving, when an automobile came along, and he became somewhat nervous as he got out of the wagon to hold it, but as the automobile passed the horse became refractory and by a sudden jerk broke away from him, throwing him to the ground. The automobile was stopped as soon as possible by the owner, who returned to the place where the accident occurred and picked Dr. Webster up. The wagon had passed over the body and it was feared the bones had been broken. He was picked up in the "auto" and taken home, where medical aid was summoned. It was found that no bones were broken, but that Dr. Webster had been fairly shaken up. He is resting comfortably today. The horse ran as far as the residence of Hugh Coburn, where he was captured and returned to the owner.

The railroad commissioners Thursday dismissed the petition of the selectmen of North Andover for a recommendation that there be a relocation of the Lowell, Lawrence & Haverhill street railway in North Andover near the Boston & Maine station. At the hearing on the petition the relocation was opposed by the railroad and the railway company. Under existing conditions the board is of the opinion that no recommendation ought to be made.

The 6.10 electric from Lawrence this morning came very near meeting with disaster. The car was a little late and in hurrying to make up time left the rails in the vicinity of the Brightwood Manufacturing Co's place. While crossing the Sutton street grade crossing the motor gave out just as a freight was speeding on its way to the station. The motorman with great presence of mind, ran to the back motor and cleared the track just in time to save an accident. A large number of Stevens mill help was on the car at the time.

Those enjoying the treat were Miss Milner and the class, composed as follows: Laurie Knowler, Robert Houghton, Stormont Josselyn, William Studley, Francis Albright, Albert Mitchell and Allie Badger.

A very quiet wedding took place recently at the home of D. B. Collins on South Hampton street, Amesbury. The contracting parties were George A. Fox and Miss Sadie E. Shaw, the former being well known in town. Rev. J. E. Norcross, pastor of the Market street Baptist church, officiated. The bride was attended by Miss Minnie Giles as bridesmaid, while Frank Fletcher served as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Fox are making their home at the John Cronin residence on Glenis street, of this town.
